

CASCAZILLA

Red India Pale Ale

The name CascaZilla (Cas-kuh-zil-uh) is a play on both the name of the gorge in Ithaca called Cascadilla and the monster amount of Cascade Hops we use while dry hopping during the brewing process. The predominant flavor and aroma of this beer comes from fresh American hops. CascaZilla gets its distinctive red color from a subtle addition of black malt, which also lends a hearty body and slight sweetness.
